MONTH OF DIVINE HOPE AGAINST NATURAL HOPE

PROPHETIC FOCUS

Pastors Corner

I gladly welcome you afresh into the middle of year 2025, which is the God's Year for our Divine Zeal for the Kingdom's assignments (Romans 12: 11). Gladly this new month is the time of our annual Convention and Festival of Rehoboth, which is amazingly the season of unusual celebrations and joys in the Lord. This new month of August is also the month of our Divine Hope against every Natural Hope. What does it mean to have Hope against Hope? To "Hope against Hope" is to believe, like Abraham, that something hoped for will come to pass even when there seems to be no chance that it will. Abraham believed that his wife would have a child at one hundred years of age and that this child's descendants would eventually produce the Messiah, Jesus Christ. "Hoping against Hope" is comparable to believing in something when others are saying, "You don't have a prayer." According to Saint Pelagius: "It was against all-natural hope for a hundred-year-old man to believe that his seed would become as numerous as the stars, especially given that his wife had been barren in her youth and was now as feeble as he was." This Divine Hope is the Oxygen of Life, and I pray that God will help us to keep the Living Hope in God alive against all odds (Amen)

CONFIDENT HOPE IN GOD

English speakers often use the word “hope” to express speculative desires: “I hope that I get the job,” or “I hope we win this game.” In these contexts, we invoke “hope” as we close our eyes, cross our fingers, and wait for the best possible conclusion to an unsure situation, but this is not what the Bible means when it speaks of hope. In Hebrew, “hope” is associated with God, so that the term expresses confidence, not in a future outcome, but in a present divine strength. According to the Psalms, hope is decisive because it comes from God: “Only for God does my life [wait] silently, for from him comes my hope. He alone is my rock and my salvation, my fortress; I shall not be shaken” (Ps 62:5-6). The psalmist is already certain of his deliverance since God is the one in whom he puts his “hope.” The Hebrew word for “hope” is the same as the word for a “pooling” or “gathering together” of waters. The Bible uses mikveh when God gathers together the waters at creation: “God called the dry ground ‘Land,’ and the gathering of waters he called ‘Seas’” (Genesis 1:10). Jeremiah connects this gathering of waters with his hope in God: “Lord, the hope of Israel, all who forsake you shall be put to shame... for they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.” (Jeremiah 17:13). The hope that Jeremiah has in God recalls God’s strength as the Creator: just as surely as God gathered the waters in the past, Jeremiah describes God as his present hope and living water. In biblical parlance, “hope” is not an abstract wish, but rather a complete assurance in God’s strength to sustain all things.

REVELATIONAL QUOTE

"No Real Life Without It: Life by its very definition is a growth process. That which is alive is growing. For example, seedlings grow to be trees, in some cases to heights of several hundred feet. Even when they reach their full height, they exhibit regular growth through the production of new leaves, branches, or fruit. The principle of growth also holds true in the spiritual realm. An essential, inherent characteristic for everyone in the Body of Christ is individual spiritual growth."

QUOTABLE QUOTE

"Assurance of salvation is not salvation secured. Faith always remains hope, even when earth seems to offer no hope." ERNST KASEMANN

Statement of Faith

That the Holy Bible is divinely inspired by God, and is infallible, trustworthy and dependable, and authoritative in all matters of faith and conduct.

That there is only one God, who is eternally existed in three distinctive persons: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

That Jesus Christ our Lord is God manifested in the human flesh to take away our sins and hopelessness by his voluntary suffering, death and physical resurrection.

That salvation of all humanity is only through the redemptive work of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is our only Hope in the world of hopelessness.

That the Holy Spirit indwells every believer in Christ to live a holy life, to witness about Christ to the lost and to be anointed to be victorious in every sphere of life.

That the church is made up of those who have genuinely accepted Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

That healing of various kinds is integral part of the redemptive work of Jesus Christ. Water baptism and the Lords Supper are authentic ordinances of the church.

That there is Satan and its demonic co-workers, whose work is to thwart and frustrate the purpose of God on earth, but their final end is the hell fire.

That there shall be a bodily resurrection of the dead in Christ to heaven, and of the unrepentant sinners to hell fire.
